EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR'S REPORT:

Dear Friends of Jazz,

With the Central Pennsylvania Jazz Camp and Jazz Festival behind us, there is finally a quiet moment to reflect on all that we've recently accomplished and all that is to come. Could there have been a better first two months for a new exec than the busiest and most fulfilling of our year? I think not!

In reflecting on where we find ourselves and where we are headed, I find no greater inspiration than the end of our mission statement, penned by CPFJ artistic director Tim Warfield:
Embracing tradition…moving it forward to create new legacies…

Embracing tradition*:* Needless to say, CPFJ is older than I am. So, it is my responsibility to learn our traditions and norms as I also learn the job itself. These traditions are greater than any one of us, so the only way I can do this is to learn directly from our diverse community members. Each of you has contributed to our past success, and our future depends on professional and student musicians, longtime and brand-new Friends, occasional attendees and donors alike. Many of you have kindly introduced yourselves at recent events, and others of you I have gotten to know through business. I am eager to continue meeting the many people who comprise our community.

Moving it forward to create new legacies*:* By its very nature, jazz is an ever-changing art form, continually adapting to its environment. Is that not what improvisers do on stage?
There is perhaps no greater embodiment of these words in our year than the Central Pennsylvania Jazz Camp, held in June in partnership with the Messiah College Department of Music. How uplifting it was to watch a record 106 students discover and share in the joys of self-expression through improvisation, confidence in spontaneity, and musical teamwork!
We continue to receive heartfelt thank-you notes from students of all backgrounds who had the opportunity to grow at this year's camp, and so we must pass on the gratitude to others who made this year's Jazz Camp possible. It is thanks to the generosity of the following organizations that this year's Jazz Camp was able to serve a record 106 students: The Kline Foundation, The Stabler Foundation, The Olewine Family Trust, and many private donors. We also owe our gratitude to Dr. William Stowman and Kelly Athey at Messiah College; our talented and caring faculty and counselors; and the students and families whom the camp is meant to serve.

The summer rolled right along with our 39th annual Central Pennsylvania Jazz Festival. Our Jazz Party featured an exhilarating night of high-energy music with the River City Big Band and guests Ali Ryerson, Marko Marcinko, and Cathy Chemi. At our Jazz Lecture, attendees soaked in the oral history of Central PA's jazz community recounted by Ron Waters and Jimmy Wood. At the Mt. Gretna Playhouse, George Cables, Daryl Johns, and Victor Lewis took us to a higher place with their dazzling virtuosity and command of the jazz language.

Thanks are due to many individuals and organizations whose resources contributed to the success of this year's Festival: Premier Wealth Management and the PA Council on the Arts for their underwriting; many individual donors for their generous financial support; Gretna Music for co-producing the George Cables Concert; Greystone Brew House, Susquehanna Art Museum, HMAC, Holy Hound Taproom, and Indian Echo Caverns for hosting Festival events; the musicians who came from far and near to share their gifts; and certainly, YOU, the audience members who shared in the joy of live jazz.

Tim Warfield has assembled an exciting lineup for our 2019 Fall Concert Series. The New York Guitar Summit, featuring Mark Whitfield, Ed Cherry, Pat Bianchi, and Byron Landham, performs on Friday, September 6 as part of the Dauphin County Jazz & Wine Festival at Fort Hunter Park in Harrisburg. Rising star vocalist Lucy Yeghiazaryan will dazzle us at Susquehanna Art Museum on Sunday, October 20. The Geoffrey Keezer Trio, joined by vocalist Gillian Margot, will showcase music from their new album On My Way to You at WITF Public Media Center on Sunday, November 17.

Again, I look forward to the many introductions to come. It will be my pleasure to meet more and more of you as we continue to present jazz in Central Pennsylvania!

All the best in jazz,

Andy Herring - Executive Director, CPFJ.

Thanks to all for your continuing support!

Alphonso Horne and the Gotham Kings (6:30pm)

Central Pennsylvania Friends of Jazz presents Friends of Jazz Night at the Dauphin County Jazz and Wine Festival. This year's headliner is the supergroup New York Guitar Summit, featuring guitarists Mark Whitfield and Ed Cherry, organist Pat Bianchi, and drummer Byron Landham.

The opening band for this evening will be Alphonso Horne and the Gotham Kings, a tribute to the New Orleans sounds of King Oliver and Louis Armstrong.

Tickets for Friday evening only are reserved for active CPFJ Friends and may only be purchased by phone at (717) 540-1010.
If you would like to attend this concert but are not currently a CPFJ Friend, please consider renewing or starting your Friendship today!
$30 General Admission

This Fall Concert is underwritten by a generous grant from the Dauphin County Commissioners & co-produced by the Dauphin County Parks And Recreation Department

Information for Friday night, September 6th at the Dauphin County Jazz & Wine Fest.

Sponsor, Corporate & Life Members will receive tickets by mail as they would for our Spring and Fall Concerts. These tickets are good for the full three-day event. Dauphin County does not sell single day tickets - only tickets for the full three-day Festival. Many of our supporters have expressed concern that the new $50 ($60 at the gate) weekend pass fee for tickets is too much to pay if you are only interested in the Friday night event. If you are a member in good standing in CPFJ and are interested only in the Friday night event, we have been approved to sell single day tickets for $30 to CPFJ Friends only.

Regular Friends may purchase only one ticket; Patrons and Donors may purchase two tickets at the $30 price. These tickets must be purchased in advance and your membership must be current. You must call the CPFJ office (717-540-1010) in order to get this opportunity - this ticket includes all music and wine tastings FOR FRIDAY ONLY.

The Festival is held at Ft. Hunter Park just north of Harrisburg and is a rain or shine event; they have a circus-sized tent that will provide cover in case of inclement weather. There is free parking at the park. Remember to bring a chair or blanket as there are none available on site. There are several food vendors as well as twelve area vintners offering free tastings to ticket holders. No outside alcohol is allowed in the park, but you may bring your own picnic basket. Please contact us if you have questions.

Now is a perfect time to renew or begin your Friendship in order to take advantage of this offer!

JOIN THE CPFJ YOUTH BAND

Our continuing dedication to jazz education led to the creation of the CPFJ Youth Band over 30 years ago. Ron Waters is the Director of the CPFJ Youth Band. There is no tuition fee and all young musicians with an interest in learning to improvise are welcome. The band is open to all school age musicians - grade school through high school - all applicants are accepted without audition. Mr. Waters prepares arrangements to suit the particular talents of the participants each year. A professional arranger, composer and trumpet player, he finds a niche for every instrumentalist and vocalist. The band's rehearsals and concerts are scheduled year round including performances at the Central PA Jazz Festival, Jazz Picnic, Harrisburg ArtsFest and many other events. Not only do the students get wonderful experience playing in an improvising ensemble, but they get to meet kids from other schools who have the same interests. This ensemble offers a different experience than most High School Jazz Ensembles - it is not a place where the students simply read the notes on the page - all members learn to improvise and get valuable experience playing jazz standards and original music in a group setting. The Youth Band is also not restricted to the traditional big band instrumentation (trumpets, trombones, saxes & rhythm section) - all instruments are welcome - we have had almost every imaginable instrument - cello, accordion, oboe, flute, etc. in previous bands. COME JOIN THE FUN!!

Please contact Mr. Waters at (717) 432-3109 or via email at erinjazz01@gmail.com

"The crackling intensity of One Night At Chris' is a testament to what can happen on the bandstand on any given night. And this was a particularly good night indeed."
Bill Milkowski

DAVE WILSON tenor and soprano saxophones KIRK REESE piano
TONY MARINO acoustic bass DAN MONAGHAN drums

Dave Wilson is a saxophonist, composer, educator & recording artist in the Central PA/Mid Atlantic area. He performs at venues & festivals in the area & beyond as a leader and sideman.
